John Ivy died near Lady Day last, leaving a widow and three children. The widow since married one Wilson, a stranger whose settlement is not yet ascertained. Ivy came with a certificate from Great Chart to Ashford. Ivy had been renting the Castle Alehouse from one James Kettle for five years and now Wilson carries on the tenancy on the same terms. Query: if under the agreement of tenancy the certificate to Ivy be vacated and to which of the two parishes (Great Chart or Ashford) his children belong? Opinion: the certificate is vacated and the children are settled in Ashford. Dated 1 Jan 1777 at Canterbury. |

| WILSON     | Ashford        | P10/13/1        | 1      | S    | 1777 | Mr. Robinson's opinion relative to the settlement of Ivy's children, at the Castle Alehouse, Ashford, Dec 1776. John Ivy died near Lady Day last, leaving a widow and three children. The widow since married one Wilson, a stranger whose settlement is not yet ascertained. Ivy came with a certificate from Great Chart to Ashford. Ivy had been renting the Castle Alehouse from one James Kettle for five years and now Wilson carries on the tenancy on the same terms. Query: if under the agreement of tenancy the certificate to Ivy be vacated and to which of the two parishes (Great Chart or Ashford) his children belong? Opinion: the certificate is vacated and the children are settled in Ashford. Dated 1 Jan 1777 at Canterbury. |
